NOTE : If you are not aware of the risks involved and you are not a programmer, you should better leave this program alone. NOTE : You can find information about this at the bottom of the page. How this works: 1. The program will install to C:\ProgramData. 2. It will create a file called peterparker-workingkeylogger.ini inside your ProgramData folder. 3. This file will contain the settings for the tool. 4. When the tool starts it will download these settings and use them. Examples: 1. To view the logs click on C:\ProgramData\peterparker-workingkeylogger.ini. 2. To view the settings click on C:\ProgramData\peterparker-workingkeylogger.ini. 3. To upload the logs to a website click on C:\ProgramData\peterparker-workingkeylogger.ini. 4. To read the settings click on C:\ProgramData\peterparker-workingkeylogger.ini. Usage Notes: The settings can be edited by hand or through a website. You can use the information from the settings to edit the log file. You can use this program to set your log file to a location on your harddrive instead of using the browser. You can use this program to view the settings in the event that you want to see what is going on. You can use this program to upload the logs to a website. You can add a new log to the log file by clicking on the settings. (Updates will be very slow if you do this without a connection) You can use this program to remotely install this tool. You can use this program to remotely uninstall this tool. Click here to install the program or use the setup file to install the program. 82157476af
